

American Society of Botanical Artists

21st Annual Meeting and Conference

Miami, 2015

Butterflies with Host Plants

Leo Hernandez

Saturday, October 17

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

Fairchild Tropical Botanic Gardens – Classroom B

This class is for those interested in the depiction of butterflies and their host and feeding plants in their natural environment using colored pencils. Fresh plant material will be provided by Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden. The instructor will supply images of local butterflies.

Supply List:

- 9" X 12" Bristol smooth surface paper
- Graphite pencils and eraser
- Set of colored pencils

Bio:

Leo Hernandez studied at the Frank Reilly School of Art and the School of Visual Arts in New York City. He worked in the Art Department of M. Lowenstein Textile Co. before returning to Florida in 1974. He is a member of the Tropical Botanic Artists Collective.

